A DEMOCRAT NAILING A "REPUBLICAN LIE."
The following comes to us from the Democratic Congressional Convention recently held at Elkhorn, and will be appreciated here where at least two of the parties are known, and where the absurdity of the story and the pungency of the reply, will be relished. It seems an old line Walworth county Republican being seated at dinner beside a hard-head Janesville Democrat, said that he had always supported Charley Williams, but that he had been told by a Republican friend of a rival candidate for Congress, that Williams was drinking badly, and if this was so he could not vote for him, whereupon our Democratic friend who is somewhat emphatic in manner when aroused, replied: "Williams is a personal friend and a neighbor of mine, but politically we are enemies, and I have come over here to help get up some plan to beat him if we can, but you can tell your Republican friend that I have lived in the same town with Williams and have known him for twenty years, and that so far as that story or anything to make it out of, is concerned, it is a lie—lie from the root!" He added that he wanted to beat Williams, would sit up nights to do it, but he'd be damned if he wanted to do it by any "dirty Republican trick!"

Perhaps we should say for the benefit of strangers abroad that here Mr. Williams is strictly temperate habits are known, he is not using tobacco in any form, and seldom tasting intoxicating liquors of any kind, not even wine or beer, and having gone through the exhausting labors of a dozen or more political campaigns without touching a drop of liquor, the above is pretty good reading. We can assure our Walworth county friend that while our Congressman brings down the scales at a good figure, it is genuine weight, and there is no whisky in his.

THE FIRST DISTRICT DEMOCRATS.
It is an undisputed fact that a very large number of the Democrats in this District were opposed to the nomination of Mr. Parker, for Congress. Their objections to him are (1) that he is not a Democrat in the true sense of the word; (2) that he has never been a Democrat; and (3) that the delusive theory of a worthless paper money, is not, and never was, true Democratic doctrine. There are quite a large number of men in this district, and throughout the State as well, who are Democrats, but who are not so bound up in the party as to follow it, right or wrong. Those of the party who are intelligent, independent thinkers, who generally act for themselves, and who received their political training under Jackson and his principal followers, were opposed to the nomination of Mr. Parker, for the three reasons we have already stated. As a political movement, it would be impossible to devise a more ridiculous one. It was a surrender in the face of the enemy, and a capture by the worst element we have in our politics today. Hon. H. G. Winslow, of Racine, was a delegate to the Democratic Convention. He has some political conscience, and could not help but feel deeply humiliated at the attempt of the Democrats to enter into a bargain and sale with the Greenbackers. He therefore offered this resolution:

WHEREAS, This is a delegate convention of the Democratic party of the First Congressional District of the State of Wisconsin, called by the Democratic District Committee for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Congress, for whose election Democrats can consistently work, and whom they support as being a fair and honest representative of Democratic principles, and
WHEREAS, Hon. Charles H. Parker is not now and never has been, to the knowledge of the Convention, a Democrat, and
WHEREAS, He has been placed in nomination by a set of men who do not profess to be Democrats, but many of whom are bitter opponents of the Democratic party and principles, and
WHEREAS, The platform of principles laid down by the so-called Greenback Convention which nominated Hon. Charles H. Parker, and on which he is expected to stand as he was present when it was made and accepted a nomination thereon to a speech of approval, is not an expectation of the principles of the Democratic party but contains propositions totally repugnant thereto and antagonistic to the views of the majority of Democrats, therefore

Resolved, That it is eminently proper and fully in accordance with high political principles and sound party policy for the Democratic Congressional Convention to nominate Hon. Charles H. Parker as their Congressional candidate on the following platform:

There is a bit of sarcasm in the resolution which pricked the Parker delegates to quick. Mr. Winslow supplemented the resolution by a few remarks which evidently were not pleasing to that portion of the Convention which favored a surrender, unconditionally, to the Nationals. Some sharp words followed, and at once the Convention became divided and noisy. The question of adopting the resolution was put to a vote, and was defeated by a vote of 14 to 13. Mr. Winslow and his friends were thus compelled to witness the humiliating and disgraceful surrender of the Democracy to the few wild and reckless inflationists, whose political career is as ephemeral as the morning fog. We wait with patience to see whether or not Mr. Winslow and the others who voted for the resolution, will be inventoried with the other Democrats who were captured.

The Hewitt Labor Committee is sitting in New York and has heard a variety of statements, relative to the condition of the working people, and hundreds of suggestions concerning a cure for hard-times. Mr. Horace White, formerly of the Chicago Tribune, was called by the Committee. He is a ripe scholar and a very able political economist. He thought the present commercial crisis was one of a series that have occurred among nations for the past two hundred years, and they have been preceded by rampant speculations. In 1873, he said, speculations in railroads had a great deal to do with causing the depression which existed. There was an enormous speculation in lands all over the country; prices of real estate multiplied beyond anything in the recollection of the oldest inhabitant; the obligations incurred by the building of these railroads and the purchase of real estate caused many parties to become insolvent; the condition of the currency had not increased this state of things. The speculative era which existed from 1869 to 1873 he thought had something to do with the condition of affairs. The accumulation of capital acting on the sanguine temperaments of the speculative era. Over-production by machinery had contributed to decrease business by producing more than there was demand for, and prices fell accordingly. He did not think the introduction of machinery has produced this speculative era and the collapse which followed it. No one who has paid any attention to the study of finances can doubt the position taken by Mr. White.

As a striking illustration of the deep insanity of the Greenback delusion, the following from Congressman Frye, of Maine, is remarkably good: "You go over to Augusta and pick out the craziest man in that insane asylum, and you take that crazy man and you pick out the darkest night that ever existed, and you put that man in the deepest sleep that ever was, and you get an angel to bring him the wildest dream that ever came to the craziest man in the darkest night on this earth, and it would not be hard to compare to this insane delusion."

The Watertown (Wis.) Democrat, denounces inflation, and inflation candidates, and urges the Democracy of this State to have nothing to do with them. It recommends that Democrats go into the campaign independent and clear-headed.

Congressman Bragg engineered the coalition in this District. He is soft-minded and soft all round, and directed the movement as an example of his political sagacity and wise counsel. Result. Six thousand majority for Williams.

"Jabe" Hunter says he is a sound money Democrat, and will never go back on the old principles of his party, but anything under the sun to beat a Republican. "Jabe" will feel like going to the Black Hills after the election.

Suppose, for instance, that Mr. Tilden should not secure the nomination in 1880, and he should get mad, how would he make the Democratic fly by telling what he knows of certain party transactions.

There are two Charley Parkers running for Congress on Greenback platforms in Wisconsin. They keep company politically now, and will not be separated after the election. Both will stay at home.

General Paine, formerly of Milwaukee, an ex-Congressman of the First District, will probably accept the position of Commissioner of Patents, tendered him by Secretary Schurz.

The Republicans of Tennessee in State Convention refused to adopt a resolution endorsing the President's Southern policy. What is the use of conciliation unless it conciliates?

Butler's Congressional career closes on the 3d of next March. He might as well divide up his $2,000,000 among the workmen, sell his yacht, and retire from business.

If Thurman of 1874 should look in the glass and see Thurman of 1878, he would not recognize him. As a political flopper Thurman is the most eminent of the present day.

The South is a valley of death. The yellow fever is still slaying its victims by the hundreds, and there is no hope of an abatement until frost comes.

Every candidate on the Democratic State ticket in Texas is an ex-Confederate officer. The battle cry in that State is "Bourbon straight."

A good many of the Democrats now see that there was too much Bragg at Elkhorn.

Potter's Committee breeds lies, perjury, and insanity.

PROTECTING THE BALLOT.
A North Carolina contrivance for registering votes at elections.

A correspondent sends to the Times from North Carolina a sketch and description of a machine devised for registering votes at elections, the purpose being to prevent ballot box stuffing and insure an approximately fair election. Without entering into a description of the device it is enough to state that it is a sort of electoral ball punch, to be applied by the individual voters, which promises no more, however, than the successive registering of votes on a dial. No check is provided against repeating and other more elusive frauds upon the ballot-box. Although a machine is to be provided for each candidate, no means appear to be provided for enabling the independent voter to cut the regular ticket according to the dictates of a sometimes wayward fancy. The point is made that the contrivance will lessen the service required at election precincts, but this is hardly clear, as the same clerical force will be needed in caring for the registry books, and the number needed to look after the machine would be equal to, if not greater, than those now employed in receiving and depositing the ballots. Our correspondent appears to unwittingly acknowledge the defects of his creation by the statement that it "can be closely watched by detective outsiders as well as by officers within, so that a mutual protection is established." In general, any plan which promises to lessen illegal voting by substituting mechanical devices for the strengthening of moral forces is to be avoided as like to prove delusive. The methods of voting now in vogue are sufficiently suggestive of machinery.

THE FEVER.
The Disease Steadily Increasing in Vicksburg—It is Declared an Epidemic in Memphis—Assumes a Mild Form at Grenada.

Vicksburg, Miss., Aug. 23.—The deaths from yellow fever from noon yesterday to 3 p.m. to-day was 29. Total to date 69. The disease is steadily on the increase. There were fully fifty new cases to-day, among them Dr. D. W. Booth, in charge of the hospitals. Physicians and nurses are coming from Galveston, New Orleans, Shreveport, and Delhi, La. Doctors Balfour and Robbins continue improving. Money for the aid of the sick continues to come to the aid of the Howards and Masons.

Grenada, Miss., Aug. 23.—A dispatch from Dr. Veazey, at Grenada, says the fever there in the last few days has assumed a milder form.

Memphis, Tenn., Aug. 23.—There is little change to report to-night. The fever adds to its victims almost hourly, the new cases occurring the past twenty-four hours being forty-five, and the deaths ten. Among the latter are John A. Rushe and John C. Forbes. Drs. Fraser and Marble were taken down to-night.

The Howard and other relief organizations report the sick doing well, and many of them convalescent.

Owing to the action of the Board of Health this morning, declaring the fever epidemic, and advising all to leave who could do so, about 200 persons left the infected district to-day, most of them going to camp Joe Williams.

TAXING BEER.
Gossip Concerning the Tax on Malt Liquors—How it Affects the Revenue.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—In the opinion of prominent officials, the recent remarkable decrease in the receipts from internal revenue sources will probably make the imposition of an extra tax on malt liquors a necessity. It is almost certain that such a recommendation will be made to Congress. The immense profits realized by the brewers all over the country and their disinclination to lower the price of beer to retail dealers so as to enable the latter to make a corresponding reduction to consumers is urged as a good reason why the Government should recuperate its drooping revenue by taxing a class that can so well afford to stand it. The subject is being carefully considered at the Treasury Department and the inclination at present seems to be to recommend an extra tax of $1.67 per barrel for all kinds of malt liquors. The production last year was in round numbers 10,000,000 barrels, so that, if Congress agrees to impose the increased tax, the additional revenue that will be obtained therefrom will amount to near $20,000,000. A vigorous opposition on the part of the brewers is expected as a matter of course.

LEADERS OF THE BLIND.
COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 23.—The Commissioners of the Blind spent most of the day discussing the various methods of handicraft suitable to the capabilities of the blind, and the question of increased educational appliances for this class of unfortunate. Brooms, basket-making, piano-tuning and repairing, and knitting, by machinery were urged as being especially applicable as trades for the blind. It was also agreed that if the blind are to be properly educated there must be a large increase in the number of books published for their benefit, and that these publications should embrace works of the best authors.

The following officers were elected: George L. Smead, of Ohio, President; Morrison, of Maryland, Mrs. Thomas A. Little, of Wisconsin, Vice President; W. B. Watt, of New York, Corresponding Secretary; Otis Patton, of Arkansas, Treasurer.

A resolution was adopted asking Congress to modify the postal laws as to reduce the postage on printed matter for the use of the blind.

A paper prepared by Mr. Graves, of Philadelphia, on "The Social Condition of the Blind," was read and discussed.

A QUEER COMBINATION.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—Among the signs of papers making application for a Consular position for Colonel Mosby were the following: Judge Bond, Judge Rives, ex-Senator Lewis, E. Stoughton, Alexander H. Stephens, Simon Cameron, Senator Johnston, Senator Withers, and several others whom Mosby captured during the war. It is a curious combination of politics.

HOPS.
MILWAUKEE, Wis., Aug. 23.—News from the hop regions of the State continue to be of a gloomy character, except some improvement in the crop is reported in Juneau county. In Sauk county the yield will be the highest ever grown. The total crop of the State is estimated not to exceed 2,500 bales. About one-third of last year's crop is stated to be the probable average for the present year.

A NAME TO CONJURE WITH.
How a Republican North Carolina County was Carried for the Democracy.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.
NEWBERN, August 17.—To the immense astonishment alike of Republicans and Democrats, Mr. Stephen D. Pool, of Newbern, was elected in 1874 as the Democratic nominee for the Superior Court of A. L. Johnston, by a majority of not far from 15,000. The State was at the time in the hands of the Republicans. He had an able, popular and active competitor, Mr. Thomas R. Purnell, who made a thorough canvass and brought out all the henchmen of his party. When they came to the polls, however, many of them fled for Pool. This was largely the use in the election, which were very well stocked with slaves before the war, and where the negro vote was heavy. At the time this strange conduct seemed to challenge successful explanation. One of the candidates were comparative strangers in that particular section, so that personal preferences evidently could not have affected the result. Investigation, set on foot by the Republican executive committee and conducted by the efficient detective agency of the numerous and powerful Union Leagues, at last disclosed the reason of this extraordinary conduct by so many Republican voters in going back upon their own man. It appeared that they went for the Democratic nominee just because his name was Pool. John Pool was then a Republican United States Senator from North Carolina, the Republican Judge of the Eastern District was one C. C. Pool and there were several other Pools in those parts who were prominent Republicans. It was eminently a Republican patronymic. That a man could bear the name of Pool and not be a Republican seemed to the simple, confiding minds of the colored voters—and to some white ones of the humbler class—altogether out of the question. Thus was the unexpected success of the Democratic Pool accounted for. The deluded suffragans had literally "pooled their issues," though none of them, nor anybody else, perhaps, had ever heard of Dennis Kearney.

Northampton county has been, ever since the "reconstruction" of North Carolina in 1865, a stronghold of Republicanism. It contains many respectable, intelligent and substantial white Republicans, a considerable number of whom are Quakers. The negro vote preponderates, and it never failed to come solidly for the Union boxes on election day. For ten years the Democrats have made no serious effort to carry the county, and in fact have rarely put a ticket in the field, except for mere purpose of party discipline. The Republican majority was 716 two years ago, in a total poll of 3,615. So controlling was the influence of that party that it has not involved any sacrifice of social standing for a white man to belong to it in Northampton.

At the recent State election the Republicans made large gains in the adjoining county of Hertford and in most, if not all, of the other counties of the First Congressional district. But to, and behold! Northampton went the other way and elected a Democratic Representative by 133 majority. Here was a puzzling paradox. How the thing was done, however, appears below:

The Democratic candidate for the Legislature was a Mr. James W. Grant. Like his illustrious namesake, he is a silent man and makes no speeches. On the morning of the election, just previous to the opening of the polls, a man on horseback appeared at each voting precinct in the county, called upon the colored voters and addressed them substantially as follows:

"FELLOW-CITIZENS: I come to address you this morning as to the man you shall vote for, I shall say but few words, and these will be especially directed to colored people. Ask who gave you the liberties?"

"Grant! Grant! General Grant!" rent the air in a general yell from the dusky crowd.

"Who fought for you four years and took you from the bonds of slavery and made you a free and noble people?"

"Grant! Grant! General Grant!" again the shout went up.

"Then, here are 'Grant' tickets I hold in one hand and 'Newsum' tickets I hold in the other. Which will you vote?"

"Give me de Grant ticket! Give me de Grant ticket! Hurra for Grant! I is for Grant every time, I is!" was the almost unanimous response.

The thunderstruck Republican fugitives were too dazed at the audacity of the spokesman and his success to interfere in season. The affair was a complete coup de main. By one of those transports of enthusiasm which have seized upon men in all climes and ages, and to which the negro race is peculiarly susceptible, the colored voters caught eagerly at the "Grant" bait, rushed to the boxes and put them in. And thus Northampton returned a Democratic representative. At the single precinct in Rich Square, which usually gives four or five hundred Republican majority, Mr. Grant got 411 votes over his Republican competitor.

A Healthy Body and a Clear Head.
If indigestion, constipation and biliousness torment the body, the head cannot be clear. These disorders react upon the brain most hurtfully, and produce a cloudiness in the organ of thought not experienced by a healthy man. Happily these brain-oppressing maladies may be entirely dispelled by that peerless alterative, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which cheers, refreshes and invigorates the brain and nerves, while it regulates the organs of digestion, assimilation and bilious secretion. It expels the morbid humors which poison the system through the bowels and urinary passages, and exerts a powerfully invigorating influence as well. Its cathartic action is never irritating, violent or painful, but even, natural and progressive. As an appetizer and sleep promoter the Bitters is unrivalled; it mitigates the infirmities of age, relieves the ailments peculiar to the gentler sex, arrests premature decay, and builds up an enfeebled physique.

Is the power to restore the hair to bald heads when the bulbs at the roots are destroyed by age or disease; but there are doubtless many persons becoming bald, whose hair by careful attention might be restored to its original luxuriance and beauty. Fowler's Hair Balsam is an elegant preparation, designed to meet the public want for a harmless hair dressing and restorative. It acts like magic, commencing at the very roots, removes Dandruff and all humors from the scalp, and never fails to restore gray or faded hair to the original color, and the soft, rich and glossy appearance of youth. By its occasional use falling of the hair is immediately checked, and a luxuriant and beautiful growth of young hair induced. The exquisite perfume and the purity of its composition are highly appreciated, and as it is not a dye and does not stain the skin or clothing, it is a growing favorite of the toilet table everywhere. BRIEFLETS.

—Sweltering.
—The caucuses' Saturday night.
—Base ball again this afternoon.
—Go hear the preachers to-morrow.
—Everybody is hoping for fair weather for Fair week.
—Concert Monday evening at Court Street church.
—A big safe, finely finished, was rolled into A. Hyatt Smith's law-office to-day.
—Miss Lachapelle was on the tramp at Freeport, this week, making fifty miles in 11 hours.
—Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Conant entertained a few of their many friends at their residence last evening.
—The reshingling of the High School building is nearly completed. It will take about 70,000 shingles.
—Prof. Bischoff assisted by other well-known musicians will give a choice concert next Monday night.
—Rev. Mr. Chapell is expected to return to this city next week with his family. They will occupy a house on Madison street near Jackson.
—Will Holmes will on and after Monday next be employed in Fitch's store at Madison, where he lived for several years before coming to this city.
—Henry Cramer, formerly a Beloit boot and shoe manufacturer, now a wheel raiser in Northwestern Minnesota, is to-day among his Janesville friends.
—Mrs. Thomas A. Little of this city, Superintendent of the Institution for the Education of the Blind, has been chosen one of the Vice Presidents of the National Association of Instructors for the Blind.
—In the Circuit Court a small sized and unseasonal divorce case of Wadsworth vs. Wadsworth, has been decided, the Court granting the divorce on the ground of desertion. The parties are from Evansville.
—The Lots will leave at 12 o'clock to-morrow for the Catfish, and will stop to let off passengers at any point along the trip, and will call for them on the return trip. The steamer will reach the city at 6 o'clock p. m.
—Andrew Downs, while at work on the High School road, had a narrow escape from sliding off. His foot slipped and he would have gone over and been dashed to death on the ground below, but he fortunately caught his foot in the gutter and held there.
—The funeral of Johnny Howard, the Beloit boy who died in an alley Thursday night, took place to-day. The funeral was turned out, and the procession was large. Deceased was only 23 years old, and greatly respected, though he had one fault—the ruin of many young men—drinking whiskey.
—S. L. Robbins, who runs the stage between Janesville and Beloit, is having his old conveyance reconstructed in the most artistic manner, and will be out in a comparatively new rig next Monday. It is a three-seated carriage that can accommodate comfortably nine passengers, and the fare will remain just as before, 75 cents.
—At the caucus of the Republican voters of the Fourth ward last night, H. S. Hoggboom was chosen Chairman, and A. H. Sheldon Secretary. Balloting proceeded for delegates to the County Convention. Stanley Smith and Silas Hayner serving as tellers. The following were chosen delegates: H. S. Hoggboom, John F. Drake, Clark Rogers, L. B. Carle, and A. H. Sheldon. It was decided that in case of the absence of any delegates those present were empowered to cast the full vote.
—A daughter of Mrs. General Robinson, who with her mother, is visiting friends in this city, had a narrow escape from a serious accident at the Old Fellow's picnic yesterday. She was pushing a swing when she fell to the ground, and the swing coming back, struck her and passed over her. When she was first picked up it was feared that she was badly injured, but this happily proved not to be the case.
—Wyer has found his orders for Best's bottled beer coming in so fast that he has been unable to keep pace with them. He has to-day received another half-carload, and next week will take another trip to Milwaukee to see if he cannot get more. He says the invalids and convalescents will either have to decrease in numbers, or else he will have soon to run special freight trains to keep up the supply.
—Barr Robbins' route as now laid out is as follows, through Nebraska: Seward August 26th, York 27th, Friendville 28th, Crete 29th, Wilbur 30th, Beatrice 31st. Mr. Robbins is meeting with marked success especially at late, and his tents are being crowded. In spite of some adverse circumstances, which all shown are apt to run against on portions of their trips, the season will prove a very profitable one for him as whenever weather has permitted, his canvas has been packed, and all seem delighted with the many attractive features of the show.

—Mr. Jacob Fisher, of Plymouth, who has been so prominently connected with some of the manufacturing interests of this city, and who is well-known throughout the city and county, is dangerously ill, and there is little prospect of any change for the better. About three weeks ago he had an apoplectic attack, and since then has suffered from progressive paralysis. He rallied some, about four days ago, but last night a relapse occurred, and to-day he lies in an insensible condition, with one half of his body completely paralyzed. This will be sad news for his many friends and admirers.

—The Old Fellows' picnic and dance yesterday and last evening was great a success as could have been wished for. Over 1,000 people visited the grounds during the day and evening, and all the arrangements for a good time were successfully carried out. The Committee desire to express through the Gazette, in behalf of all concerned, their appreciation of the pains taken by Mr. Brooks to make the affair a complete success. The steamer plied back and forth, the grounds were cleaned up and put in the best of condition, and every thing possible was done on his part to render the enjoyment of the occasion complete.

—Mr. Canine, a stranger in the city, has been for several days rolicking about in the Fourth ward. Last evening he took a stroll among the flower-pots at Mr. Ley's Carle's residence, and carelessly knocked over and broke some. He was pronounced a general nuisance, and it was resolved that he should suffer the penalty of death. The work of extermination commenced. Stanley Smith made a lively use of his revolver, and finally managed to kill him, after firing his body full of bullets. The dog showed a remarkable tenacity of life, and would not give up, until his carcass was made a regular lead mine. The reports of the revolver, and the howlings of the wounded dog, served quite successfully to break the monotony of that quiet neighborhood.

—Messrs. Nowlan & Wilcox have about completed their work on the Elkhorn jail, and the finishing touches will be put on next week. The jail proper is 35 feet square and 21 feet high, and provides for twelve iron cells, besides three cells for females. The Sheriff's residence attached to it is also brick, two stories and basement. The building is a fine one, though it cost only a trifle over $10,000. The committee express themselves as highly gratified with the manner in which the work has been done, and it reflects great credit upon the contractors and builders. Not an accident has occurred nor any disputes between the contractors and the officials, or among the workmen, but every part of the work has moved along with out trouble.

WONT SHUT DOWN.

The report in circulation that the cotton mill will shut down next week, for the want of cotton or any other cause, is entirely without foundation, as we are able to get all the cotton we need from localities remote from yellow fever districts.

A. J. RAY, Ag't.

THE WEATHER.

The thermometer at 7 o'clock this morning stood at 74 degrees above and at 2 o'clock this afternoon at 87 degrees above. One year ago to-day at corresponding hours the thermometer stood at 57 and 75 degrees above.

The indications to-day are, for the upper lake region partly cloudy weather and occasional rains, warm southeasterly, shifting to colder northwesterly winds, rising, preceded in the south and east portion by falling barometer.

MAKING PAPER AGAIN.

The Rock River Paper Company, of Beloit, to-day started up the mill department of their mill, which suffered from fire about two weeks ago. Forty men have been at work day and night since the insurance adjusters finished their work, and as a result of seven days work start up work again to-day. The straw board machinery, valued at $7,000 and now roofed and exposed to the weather, but a new brick building will be erected at once, and then all the workings will be resumed as usual.

BELOIT DELEGATES.

Beloit had an exciting time in some of the Republican ward caucuses last night over the selection of delegates to the county convention here next Wednesday. In the first ward especially it was hot, some 200 votes being polled.

The following are the delegates selected:

To the county convention—Parsons Johnson, Samuel Allen, J. B. Dow, J. O. Fuller, George Smith, O. B. Olmstead, J. R. Nye, Dr. H. Hunt, W. H. Beach.

To the assembly—G. A. Houston, Cham Ingersoll, H. M. Whitney, H. G. Seligwick, O. Lunn, Cheney, W. H. Aldrich, T. Gesley.

A BURGLAR'S SURPRISE PARTY.

Yesterday afternoon "Scratchy" Nash was taken to Whitewater, to answer to a charge of burglary. He waived examination and was held for trial in jail at $3,000, and being unable to secure bondsmen was locked up in the jail at Elkhorn. A little surprise was given Nash yesterday. It will be remembered that another man was arrested with Nash. The man's name was Blodgett, and when the evidence was brought out yesterday it was shown that he had been used by the officers simply for the purpose of detecting the burglars. It appears that Nash approached Blodgett and wanted him to help the gang in selling some silverware. Blodgett informed the officers, and acting under their advice he saw Nash again, procured a part of the silverware and brought it back to the officers, who handed him some money to give Nash. When he met Nash and handed him the money the officers were in waiting and seized the two. The rest of the gang implicated have thus far escaped arrest. Nash was completely surprised on finding that Blodgett had been acting in the interests of the officers, as he had no idea that such was the fact, as Blodgett was locked up with him, and the truth of the matter was not brought out until yesterday. There is little doubt but that Nash will now have to suffer the penalty of the penitentiary.

GOVERNOR SMITH AT MILTON.

The law-abiding under the auspices of the Seventh Day Baptist Society, upon the grounds of Superintendent Whitford on Thursday evening was a complete success in all its features. Governor Smith and wife arrived on the afternoon train from Milwaukee, and were taken to the house of Superintendent Whitford. The Governor visited the Teachers' Institute, which was in session, immediately after his arrival and made a brief address to the teachers. At 8 o'clock the people began to assemble on the lawn, which was illuminated with Chinese lanterns and provided with seats, and for an hour the Governor and his estimable wife, who occupied a position in front of the house, were subjected to the vigorous hand-shakings of two or three hundred villagers and citizens of this locality. When all who wished had been introduced, Superintendent Whitford called to order and introduced the distinguished gentleman, who presides over the destinies of our great commonwealth. He addressed the people for a brief time in a very interesting manner. The Governor was followed by ex-State Superintendent Sealing, Gov. E. M. Dunn, President Albert Whitford, Professor Salisbury, of Whitewater, Prof. H. D. Maxson, Rev. Wm. Walker, and Rev. A. L. P. Loomis, all of whom made brief and appropriate remarks, the first named gentleman, Prof. Sealing, tendering His Excellency, in behalf of our citizens, a hearty and cordial welcome. The exercises were interspersed with music by the Cornet Band, who were highly commended for their skillful playing by the Governor and other visitors, and at the conclusion of the speeches ice-cream and cake were served, of which a large number partook. The evening was a beautiful one, and the large assemblage seemed to enjoy the occasion very much and to appreciate the privilege and pleasure of meeting the distinguished guests in a social gathering and the honor conferred on our village by their presence. The Governor and his wife took the midnight train for Madison, taking with them the best wishes of many new made friends and admirers for future health, happiness and prosperity.

Two Millions of Bottles.

Every one, no doubt, has heard of Dr. Price's Special Flavoring Extracts, but although upwards of two millions of bottles of them are annually manufactured, there are yet housewives who know nothing of their excellence. We believe that they are the purest, strongest and finest flavoring extracts in the market.
